WAUREGAN

A very interesting game of basketball was witnessed by several Wauregan people Tuesday night. The game was between the Central Village grammar school and the Wauregan grammar school for the latter's floor. The feature of the game was the brilliant pass work of the Wauregan boys. The score at the end of the first half was 22-4 in favor of Wauregan. The action of the visiting team was the star of the team of which he is a member, while William Snow of Wauregan starred for his team with long distance shooting, closely followed by Ashley, Mott, Anthony, Campbell and Leo Farland. The Wauregan landed back on the floor, while Central Village changed its lineup slightly, Moore taking center while C. Mayhew came on to the floor like a blushing blundering rose, but when told by the referee that both teams were classed as grammar school teams he faded into a corner. The lineup follows: Wauregan—Mott, Ashley, I. A. Campbell, C. W. Snow, L. Farland, C. Central Village—Joe Eaton, Ashley, Moore, I. Mott, C. A. Campbell, L. Farland, 2, giving a final score of 22-4 in favor of Wauregan. Timmer, Snow, Moore, Mott, Ashley, and Robert Campbell; referee, C. Carter; time, 20 minutes halves.

The following students of Wauregan school are classed as honor students: Florence Leach, whose average for February was 100 per cent in seven subjects, including conduct and effort; Barbara Leavitt, whose average for February was 100 per cent in six subjects, including conduct and effort; Mildred Leach's average for February was 100 per cent in four subjects, including conduct and effort. The new visiting nurse for the village of the hospital, Mrs. Thomas Hughes, will make her home with Mrs. Thomas Hughes.

Mrs. Main is survived by her husband and three children.

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Danielson began to experience near-frost conditions Thursday, insofar as running water in the streets was concerned. The sun put in his best effort of the season and his efforts told mightily on the ramparts of snow and ice that have defied all efforts to materially move them for the past six weeks or more.

In upper Main street the rush of water was so great as to cut through the ice-forecasting and bare the cement of the highway for the first time since early January. Great puddles of water, held in by surrounding embankments to stay the ice, presented rough conditions for traveling, but the water was welcomed as a sign that winter's grip was finally loosening a bit.

The thaw reached such proportions during the afternoon, when the mercury climbed up to 45 degrees, that water began to run in all directions, and seemed to have predilection for getting into basements and cellars. Verily, the troubles that have been forecasted for the time when the ice and snow should begin to move was partially realized during Thursday, and hurried and feverish were the efforts to get the miniature floods that flowed everywhere about the borough.

Snow banks settled very perceptibly during the day, but the highways, which many imagined would be improved by a real thaw, became terribly messy and traveling was something to be avoided if possible.

Announcements of the day included that of resumption of traffic overland between Danielson and Wauregan by the direct route, busses going out during the afternoon.

One can never tell what is being said about one's town in some other part of the state. A story got out recently that Danielson had an epidemic of infantile paralysis. The story wasn't true, but it was given public-sounding.

In some of Connecticut's big papers, and an official investigation resulted, and established that the rumor was unfounded.

Upon receipt of information that an epidemic of infantile paralysis had broken out in the town of Killingly, Dr. E. K. Davis, director of the bureau of preventable diseases of the State Department of Health made an exhaustive investigation yesterday but learned that the report was unfounded.

The disease which was claimed to be the dreaded infantile paralysis proved to be nothing more than a form of paralysis following diphtheria symptoms and harmless to other members of the community. The report of an alleged epidemic was first brought to the attention of the town health officer, Dr. W. H. Johnson, who transmitted the information to Commissioner John T. Plank of the State Department of Health, Hartford.

John M. Rosette, of the West Side, has returned from Canada, where he went to accompany the body of his brother, Arthur Rosette, who died in New Bedford a few days ago. Arthur Rosette, who has been engaged in the real estate business, was a resident of Danielson many years ago and is remembered here by older residents.

A story comes out of Brooklyn of the cutting and feeding to hogs owned by a foreman of the carcasses of a horse that died of what apparently was some malignant disease. In turn the carcasses of the hogs were sent out to be cooked and mixed with fodder for the hens, seventeen of which are said to have been killed by this food as the result of the feed given them. What became of the carcasses of these hens, if they were after indulging in the feed, has not been determined.

Bowling fans here are enthusiastic over the victory won by Frank Barber of the Casino alleys over Joseph Barber of the Casino alleys in the Westerny match rolled up in Westerny as told in Thursday's Bulletin.

The detail of the score for ten strings was as follows: Joseph Barber, 116, 102, 108, 99, 125, 92, 129, 82, 113 and 98; total 1076.

Joseph Barber, 109, 109, 125, 92, 114, 96, 113, 114 and 116; total 1069.

It is understood that the match was rolled for $22 a side. The participants in the match, however, have evened the bowlers' rolls and suggestions for another match are being heard.

Frank A. Spalding, who has been seriously ill at his home in Brooklyn this week, was reported Tuesday as resting more comfortably. Mr. Spalding has been about 30 years past his prime, but he has been making his rounds in the place since he was engaged in business here.

PUTNAM

At Thursday's session of the superior court here, Judge George E. Hinman presiding, the case of Peter Chabot of Wauregan vs. Samuel C. Harris of Brooklyn was heard, the action being one in which Mr. Chabot is seeking to recover $252, which he claims is due him by the board of a horse.

Back in 1918 Mr. Harris bargained with Mr. Chabot for a horse and an agreement was made that the horse was to be kept at Wauregan and transported by freight of this class of material being denied the shikmen because of the heavy loads that have occurred from the horse in transit.

John C. Johnson at the head of the H. K. H. plants in this city, said Thursday that the ruling that shipments all must go by express will add thousands of dollars each year to the concern's expense in doing business.

To offset the ruling this company, which has plants at Wauregan and at New London, will ship overland by motor truck. This sort of service already has been inaugurated between New York and the Waterbury plants and will be extended through to Putnam as soon as the highways are in condition to permit of trucking.

The rule against shipping by freight that was upheld by the court was made by railroad companies.

The new council of the Knights of Columbus, to be formed at North Grotonville will be known as St. Bernard council. It was stated here Thursday. The membership of the order has grown rapidly in the Grotonville of Windham the past year, all of the members from that section joining Carroll council of this city, from which they will be transferred to the new St. Bernard council.

Notwithstanding the defeat of this city's star bowler, Joseph Vandale, in every day match game rolled at Wednesday afternoon with Frank Barber of Danielson, the enthusiastic followers of the game here still have confidence that their favorite is the stellar roller of the town. They point to the fact that he lost the match by only seven pins and that he was out of the game only once in his last match and is not now up to his top notch form.

Attorney Frank H. Fox, of Windham, is on duty here at Thursday's session.

Clergymen and many lay delegates came here Thursday to attend the services of Windham county Congregational churches at the Second Congregational church. A lunch was served those attending the conference of the women members of the local church.

Louis Wolf, administrator of the estate of his brother, Joseph Wolf, stated Thursday that an effort to clear up all accounts pertaining to the estate he has made an appeal to the public, who had dealings with his brother, to help him in his effort to settle the estate completely.

It was found that Mr. Wolf did not keep complete records of his accounts, carrying many items in his estate. Mr. Wolf is now in the hands of the court, and is on duty here at Thursday's session.

State policemen have not given the hope that they may unearth more stolen cars in Putnam. They have been continuing their investigations this week and have made examinations of cars that came to this city through Chabot's name. They did other cars that have been established as being stolen machines. The result of the newest investigations have not been given out.

mind. The administrator is anxious to get in touch with all of those to whom his brother owed money and also with those who are indebted to his brother, promising that all unrecorded cases will be thoroughly investigated and settlements made.

Mr. Wolf appeals particularly to the fair-mindedness of the people who had dealings with his deceased brother, that the interests of the said brother's wife and three children may be justly and properly protected. His brother's death came suddenly and unexpectedly, from pneumonia, during the past month and it is to adjust in a whole proper manner all his affairs that the administrator is making his appeal, of which he is giving official notice elsewhere.

Great quantities of snow and ice ran through the city's streets during Thursday, when the warm rays of the sun did a fine job in helping clear away the storm deposits of the past two months.

Need Attention in March or Face May Stay Covered.

Now is the time to take special care of the complexion if you wish to look well the rest of the year. The March winds have a strong tendency to bring out freckles that may stay all Summer unless removed. Now is the time to use Othine—double strength.

This preparation for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails. Get an ounce of Othine—double strength, and even a few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the smaller freckles even vanishing entirely.
